Making your way through the system as an identity theft victim can be a lengthy and confusing process. As you contact law enforcement, creditors and financial institutions it is important that you keep a record of each person you speak to. Include their name (first and last) or first and ID number, phone number along with the date and time.

DO NOT use this kit for check or credit card fraud. Identity Theft involves the attempt to take over your account or to fraudulently create new accounts against your name.

Step One

Now that you have obtained the Identity Theft Report, you should report the incident to the fraud department of the three major credit bureaus.

- Provide the event report number to the credit bureau and ask for a "fraud alert" to be placed on your credit report.
- Order a copy of your credit report so you can review it to see if any additional fraudulent accounts have been opened in your name or if any unauthorized charges have been made to other accounts.
- Request a victim's statement that asks creditors to contact you prior to opening new accounts or making changes to any existing accounts.

Contact information for the three major credit bureaus is as follows:

Equifax

P.O. Box 740241 Atlanta, GA 303074-0241

• You should also file an identity theft report with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC can be reached at 877-438-4338 or www.ftc.gov/idtheft.

STEP TWO

- Contact the fraud department of each of your creditors that are affected by the fraud.
- Get copies of the altered information for each of your compromised accounts (credit cards, utilities, cable bills etc.) and call the fraud department of each credit account.
- Get copies of recorded phone numbers, addresses or computer IP addresses that were used by the perpetrator to alter your account.
- Report the incident to each creditor, even if your account at that institution has not been tampered with. Close the accounts that you believe have been compromised.
- Send a copy of both the completed Form A and the Identity Theft Report to each creditor and retain a copy for your records.
- Make copies of the attached, Form A. The Form A is required to obtain the records needed to conduct an investigation. Failure to send a completed Form
 A to the creditors, or to obtain the requested records, will result in no investigation.
- Remember to keep a written record of each person you speak to. If they insist on using only their first name ask them for their employee number and obtain the phone number for that specific person (not a general number). This includes each creditor, law enforcement officer and all others.

STEP THREE

 Once all the requested documents have been received, assemble copies of the Sheriff's Office Identity Theft report, copies of each completed Form A, and copies of all documents you received from your creditors and call the Sheriff's Office 661-391-3110 or mail the documents to:

Kern County Sheriff's Office

RE: (your case number)

 If your area is serviced by a Sheriff's Office substation, use the correct Substation address.

- If a business tells you they can only send the information to the Sheriff's Office, provide them with the Sheriff's Office address and your case number.
- Remind everyone you speak to, to put YOUR Sheriff's Office case number on the envelope and the documents they send.
- Upon receipt of all the requested records this department will evaluate your case for further investigation.
- If you have any problems with your creditors or the businesses providing the requested information contact:

If you have any questions please call (661) 391-7530, between 8 AM and 4 PM, any day of the week.

INFORMATION TO GET FROM BUSINESSES

A Criminal Investigation can not be started until documentary evidence is submitted.

Documentary evidence are the records that most businesses keep, which provide useful leads (information) specific to the transaction.

Documentary Evidence includes;

- Telephone caller ID information.
- Internet Protocol (IP) Address, time, date, and time zone of computer used to communicate over the internet.
- Addresses the suspects used to have account records sent to.
- License Plates
- Signature Documents
- Business Notes documenting conversations, phone numbers, and names.
- Invoices, orders, other documents which show changes of address, telephone numbers, names, and ship to addresses or names.
- Bank account numbers, credit card or checking account numbers used in conjunction with the fraud.
- The purchase receipts and information which shows what was fraudulently purchased, where it was purchased and the date and time it was purchased.

Although still important in a investigation, Documentary Evidence IS NOT;

- Surveillance video (unless you know the person in the photograph).
- The bill by which you discovered the fraud.
- The notice of payments due or account collections notice.
- Or, your credit report.

Documentary evidence must be requested by YOU from EACH business your account or personal information was used at. Some businesses will send the information to you directly, while others will only send it to the Sheriff's Office. Be sure to;

- Clarify with the business where they will send the information and when.
- Write down the name and direct phone number of the person you spoke to.
- Write down any reference number the business uses to track your claim.

To assist you, the Kern County Sheriff's Office has developed a Identity Theft Kit. This kit contains a Form A which you can send to each business to request the evidence. The kit also serves as a crime report. Also in the kit is a form to help you keep track of who you have been talking to. Be sure to tell the business your Sheriff's Office case number must be on any documents sent to the Sheriff's Office.

Be sure to mention to the business that you need any records that may include;

- Telephone caller ID information
- Internet Protocol (IP) Address, time, date, and time zone of computer used to communicate over the internet
- Invoices, orders, other documents which show changes of address, telephone numbers, names, and ship to addresses or names.
- Receipts
